Supreme Court Opens Steel Seizure Case

Government, Industry Give Oral Arguments

Court May Not Rule On Constitutionality Of Truman Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorneys for the administration and the steel industry open oral arguments before the Supreme Court today in an historic effort to settle finally whether President Truman's seizure of the steel mills was legal.

But the big question—whether the President has inherent powers under the Constitution to seize private industries in national emergencies—may go unanswered because of the various alternative courses open to the high tribunal.

The industry is asking the Supreme Court to uphold the April 29 decision of federal Judge David A. Pine. Pine ruled that Truman's steel seizure order of April 8, issued to head off a strike was unconstitutional. He ordered the mills returned to their owners.

Charles W. Christenberry, Eighth Army deputy chief of staff. Gen. Dodd, apparently well and in good spirits, was released Saturday from the prison stockade into which he had been snatched by the Red prisoners.

4 Injured, 1 Arrested After 9 Weekend Traffic Mishaps

Four persons were injured and one was arrested as the result of three of the nine traffic mishaps investigated by State Patrolmen over the weekend.

A truck driven by Fred Hudson, 46, of Quincy, Ill., collided with a car operated by Leo Urbanick, 42, of Sherrodsville at 9:25 p.m. Sunday in Hanoverton, at the junction of Routes 30 and 9 in Hanoverton.

Urbanick sustained contusions and a possible fracture of the left knee. Mrs. Laura Drummond, 36, of Minerva received lacerations of the scalp and face and Bruce Drummond, 4, sustained lacerations of the scalp. The two persons were passengers in the Urbanick car.

Ridgway Leaves To Succeed Ike

General Starts From Japan For Europe

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who blocked the Communists in Korea and engineered the end of the Allied occupation of Japan, left today on his way to Europe to succeed Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It was only a year, a month and a day ago that Ridgway, soldier, diplomat and Pentagon troubleshooter, took over from Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Japan.

As he left he turned over his United Nations and Far Eastern commands to Gen. Mark Clark. Clark then kissed the young and charming Mrs. Ridgway goodbye and she walked up the plane ramp with her distinguished husband.

The glistering Constellation left at 3:09 p. m. for Honolulu. At Hanaed Airport were diplomats and high brass. The crowd cheered when Ridgway said from the plane ramp:

"I am deeply honored by this ceremony. To see the armed forces lined up side by side seems to me not only a tribute of purpose but also of the peoples they represent and all the free peoples of the world."

There was little of the pomp and ceremony that marked MacArthur's departure in April last year after the veteran of Corregidor had been fired by President Truman.

Gen. Dodd Reveals Reds Threatened To Kill Him

Major Oil Strike Settlement May Offer Pattern

18½ Cent Wage Boost Granted In California; Gas Supplies Diminish

DENVER (AP)—With a major settlement for background, striking oil workers and company officials got ready for tomorrow's showdown meeting with the Wage Stabilization Board. The government goal: To halt the nationwide strike with its world-wide effects.

The United States and Britain asked all nations to conserve dwindling supplies of aviation gasoline. They warned global restrictions may follow.

Military flying is down to essentials. More civilian flights are suspended each day. Motorists are feeling the growing pinch. Three disastrous fires heightened the shortage.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, largest of the 22 unions striking for higher wages, flew to Washington yesterday to prepare for the meeting called by the WSB.

No Contract, No Work

Knight has said that, after months of postponement before the walkout started 13 days ago, the striking refinery and pipeline workers are determined not to work without a contract. There was no sign they had changed their stand.

Scattered agreements have been signed through the industry. But the first major agreement which union officials conceded might set a settlement pattern was okayed by workers yesterday.

It is between the Independent Union of Petroleum Workers and Standard Oil of California. It provides a basic wage increase of 18½ cents an hour. That's the compromise figure Knight said would be acceptable instead of the 25-cent raise sought originally on the current $2 to $2.10 hourly rate.

The contract worked out in Los Angeles also calls for increased shift differentials of 6, 7½ and 12 cents an hour. That's the union goal to replace present night work premiums of 4, 5 and 6 cents.

Barney McMahon IUPW representative, said 96 per cent of the 5,000 union members concerned voted approval of the terms. He added the vote indicates a "sound basis for other California settlements and possibly for the union as a whole."

Disaster Cuts Supplies

Disaster also cut at fuel supplies. Fire following derailment of a freight train near Corsicana, Tex., destroyed 16 tank cars of fuel oil and four of high octane gasoline.

About a quarter million gallons were lost in a barge explosion near New Orleans.

Fire swept a five-acre area of crude oil storage tanks at the Houston refinery of the Eastern States Petroleum Co., one of those not affected by the strike.

With government restrictions on gasoline deliveries in the eastern two-thirds of the nation, more motorists are beginning to feel the growing shortage. One filling station on the New Jersey turnpike went dry yesterday and gasoline purchases at the others were limited to $1.50 per vehicle.

Latest airline cancellations included two United Airline daily roundtrips out of Salt Lake City for Boise, Idaho, and San Francisco.

Tornado Flattens Georgia Village

ALAPAH, Ga. (AP)—Vicious winds of tornadoic force leveled sections of this town of 600 persons yesterday and caused heavy property damage. No one was killed.

The brief twister flattened dozens of homes and businesses, smashed the huge community water tank and wrecked all the school property. But despite the blow, only three persons were hospitalized.

Mayor Julian P. Paulk estimated property damage would approach a half-million dollars.

20 Delegates At Stake Today

Ike Declares He Won't Campaign On Return

(By The Associated Press)

Both Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower expect to win new national convention delegate votes today as Wyoming and Rhode Island Republicans meet in state conventions to select 20.

Wyoming Democrats also are meeting to elect 10 delegates. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee attended a pre-convention caucus last night before leaving for Denver today, later Oregon.

Taft counted on picking up a majority of Wyoming's 12 GOP votes, but Eisenhower backers in Casper said "there'll be a fight" if GOP state leaders don't agree to a split giving at least five to the general.

Eisenhower forces in Rhode Island were confident they would get most if not all, of Rhode Island's eight delegate votes to the Chicago nominating convention.

As the busy political week got underway—13 conventions with 166 delegate votes at stake—Taft had 343 votes and Eisenhower 290, according to an Associated Press tally.

Warren Navy Man Killed By Red Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced today that two men were killed outright and six wounded, one of them fatally, when the destroyer James C. Owens was hit by six Communist shells off the north-east coast of Korea May 7.

The destroyer suffered some superstructure damage from shrapnel and a depth charge carried by the vessel was exploded by a direct hit from enemy guns on the shore near Songjin. The fight lasted 11 minutes, the Navy reported, with the destroyer firing 153 rounds which scored at least two direct hits on Red gun positions.

The Navy reported the following members of the crew killed: Commissary Third Class Stanley H. Emond of Pensacola, Florida. Seaman Apprentice William J. Murphy 3rd of Park Ridge, New Jersey.

Died of wounds: Seaman Thomas E. Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Ramsey of Warren.

Red Riots, Blockade Mark Step-Up Of German Cold War

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's impending peace contract brought a bloody weekend battle to industrial Essen and reports today that East Germany's Communist rulers are readying a drastic step-up in the cold war against the West and tighter Russian-East German ties.

One young Communist was killed in the Essen riot, in which police gunfire broke up a clash between anti-Reds and 30,000 Communist-led youths demonstrating against plans to rearm West Germany for Western defense. Scores of demonstrators were injured and several were arrested.

Here in the capital, meanwhile, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met with rebellious leaders from his government coalition forces. Their opposition to the peace pact threatens its chances of ratification by the West German parliament.

Despite Adenauer's urging, the opponents were reported still adamant that the United States, Britain and France concede more before West German troops are furnished for the projected European army. The Allies already have said they have gone as far as they will.

As the talks on the peace contract continued in Bonn, informed East zone sources in Berlin said that Communist-surrounded metropolis has been chosen by the Russian and East German leaders as the focal point of their campaign against the western agreement.

These sources anticipated that the East German government may soon demand the unification of divided Berlin and withdrawal of all occupation forces from the metropolis. This, the sources added, may be accompanied by "drastic measures" against West Berlin.

They predicted also that East Germany soon may be declared a "people's democracy" like other Soviet satellites and that its government may be shaken up to weed out anyone not in accord with the Sovietization of the east zone.

The Bonn government in its official information bulletin charged in reply yesterday that East zone Communists with Russian aid have been training picked young men in civil war tactics for months.

South Korean police said two of their men and one Communist guerrilla were killed Friday night when about 50 guerrillas attacked the town of Hamyang, 45 miles west of Pusan deep in South Korea. Three civilians were kidnapped by the raiders and ten homes and two warehouses destroyed by fire.

Criminal Trials Resume; Jury Chosen

Six men and six women were selected this morning to serve on a Common Pleas jury as criminal trials resumed, with Robert Elser 36, of Columbiana and Mrs. Kathryn Elser Adams, 38, of Lisbon facing a perjury charge.

The pair are charged with adopting a three-year-old boy, although they had been divorced for over a year. They applied for adoption in August, 1949, but court records at Lisbon showed Mrs. Adams was granted a divorce from Elser June 17, 1948 on grounds of willful absence. Judge Frank C. Cope of Carrollton is presiding.

Lee Camp of Salem is among the jurors chosen.

Clark Says Reds Were Granted Few Concessions

New U.N. Commander Hints These Promises Will Not Be Honored

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Big Gen. Francis T. Dodd said tonight Communist prisoners of war who held him hostage on Koje Island four days last week threatened to kill him if the U.S. Eighth Army tried to rescue him by force.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, new Supreme U.N. Commander, said in Tokyo the Red POWs were granted some minor concessions. He termed their original demands for Dodd's release "unadulterated blackmail." He seemed to hint they would not be honored.

Dodd read a statement to correspondents saying he was convinced the United Nations command threats to use force "had a decided effect" in obtaining his release Saturday night.

The correspondents were not permitted to question the general. It was the first time they had been allowed to see him.

Dodd Well-Treated

Dodd said he was well treated by the Reds while a captive in Compound No. 76 on the island—the U. N. No. 1 camp for tough prisoners.

Stockade officers said the prisoners apparently had planned the capture at least a week in advance. Within minutes after they seized Dodd, the Reds broke out banners saying:

"We captured Dodd. If our problems are resolved his security is guaranteed. If there is any brutal act or shooting, his life is in danger."

Probe Underway

Clark said a full investigation of "the violent and treacherous kidnapping of General Dodd and the circumstances surrounding the negotiations and his ultimate release" is under way.

Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, Charleston, S. C., was placed in command of the Koje camp on Thursday, the day after Dodd was seized. Clark listed the ransom demands by North Korean prisoners on Koje Island—and told which demands were acceded to by Gen. Colson in order to secure Dodd's release.

1. Do all within his power to eliminate future violence and bloodshed on Koje. (90 POWs and one American guard were killed in two Koje POW riots in February and March.)

2. Stop "forcible screening or any rearming of prisoners of war in this camp" and not make any attempt "at nominal screening."

Allied officers have been screening prisoners of war and civilian internees to determine whether they would resist being returned to North Korea or China after an

Sentiment Grows For Eased Housing Down Payment Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sentiment is growing in some government circles for an easing of down payment requirements on houses in the medium and upper price brackets, which have not been selling too well.

Several members of the Federal Reserve Board, which administers Regulation X over housing credit, favor the move, it was learned today.

The board is surveying the prospects and will talk things over with Raymond Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, who would have to concur.

Regulation X now requires a sliding scale of down payments starting at $1,550 for a conventional loan on an $8,000 house and zooming to 50 per cent down on all houses above $24,500.

Loans guaranteed by the government for veterans carry smaller down payments, from $750 for an $8,000 house to 45 percent for houses above $24,500.

Some board members think the present scale has some lumps in it, with down payments increasing out of proportion to the price on homes of $15,000 and above.

These members say one-third down would be an adequate requirement for the highest-priced homes. Starting downward from this point, they would install a lower and more even scale of down payment requirements until they approached the present scale at about the $15,000 class.

Under the present regulation, for an $18,000 house, on conventional loans the down payment jumps to $6,700 and on GI loans to $5,800. Thus a house costing $10,000 more than more than the $8,000 class carries more than half of the difference—more than $5,000 included in the down payment.

The housing market as a whole is booming, but surveys by the reserve board show that sales of houses costing $15,000 and more are relatively slow.

There were almost 100,000 housing starts in March, the second highest mark on record. Original estimates of 800,000 starts this year are being revised upward to more than one million.

Farmer's Cow Sets Production Mark

A Salem farmer's cow established a production mark and a cow owned by a Beloit farmer received a high rating, it has been announced.

Golden Rag Apple Pearl, a registered Holstein cow in the herd owned by Donald Phillips of near Salem has just completed a lifetime production record of more than 100,000 pounds of milk, four times the production of the average U. S. cow—on official test with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.

In six yearly milking periods, the cow has produced a total of 107,683 pounds of milk and 4,767 pounds of butterfat. Her highest single record was made at the age of seven year nine months when she produced 24,194 pounds of milk and 982 pound of butterfat on three milkings daily.

An Ayrshire cow, Par's Sheila Doristance, owned by Frederick Zurburg of Beloit, has been given the high rating of Approved, according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Executive Secretary C. T. Conklin of Brandon, Vt.

The Ayrshire Approved rating has been given to this cow in recognition of the producing ability of at least two or more of her daughters. The Zurburg cow qualified on two tested daughters that average 9915 lbs. of 4.2 per cent milk and 413 pounds of butterfat on a twice-a-day milking schedule.

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort—big-car power—big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

armistice. What was meant by "re-arming" was not explained.

3. Allow the organization of a POW representative group or commission consisting of North Korean and Chinese prisoners.

Clark said: "The reply by General Colson to the Communist prisoners was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake. The Communist demands were unadulterated blackmail and any commitments made by General Colson as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Lt. Col. Wilbur Kaven, with Dodd when he was seized, described the capture in detail. He said the trouble at Compound 76 actually started on May 6, the day before the Dodd kidnapping. A work detail of prisoners returning to the compound was searched and found to have "contraband."

Raven said that when the forbidden articles were taken the work detail refused to go into their compound. They agreed only when told that the articles would be returned and that Dodd the next day would come to talk to them.

The next day at 2:30 p.m. Dodd went to the compound. He and Raven began talking with the prisoners through the barbed wire fence. A work detail went through the main gate where the conference was being held.

The gate remained open several minutes. Raven said he and Dodd were too engrossed in talking with the Reds to notice the gate.

"Several prisoners moved over to close the gate," Raven said, "and they got behind us."

He said the Red POWs rushed him and Dodd and that "five were on me and at least 15 had hold of the general."

Raven said he saw Dodd struggling with his captors until the general disappeared behind a compound building. Raven himself was busy fighting off his attackers. He finally kicked and fought free.

The theft, which was not reported to police, might have been the work of pranksters, Mr. Logue said.

Problem In Presentation

As the time draws near for Gen. Eisenhower's first appearance in the United States as a contender for the Republican presidential nomination, a knotty problem weighs on him and his backers.

Circumstances have contributed to a buildup for what could be a terrible letdown—through no fault of his own. Too much is going to be expected when he begins to play the role of a candidate in the flesh.

The role will begin, according to present plans, when Gen. Eisenhower makes himself available at Abilene, Kan., for a press conference on June 4. He must then come up with answers for the first flurry of the hundreds of questions which eventually he must answer plausibly in order to show his grasp of public affairs.

At that point, an invidious comparison with Sen. Taft's long experience in dealing with the same affairs will be unavoidable. As Gen. Eisenhower, himself, admitted in commenting on foreign aid, he cannot be expected to know about the background of major issues in Washington.

As the general answers questions and states opinions, it is a certainty that he cannot please everybody; no office-seeker ever did please everybody. Those who tried learned to their sorrow that they had pleased nobody.

Every firm opinion, every firm answer to a leading question will alienate some of the Americans who "liked Ike" in the abstract but may like him with reservations in the concrete. That is the peculiar problem of his candidacy—a political liability already discounted by Sen. Taft.

It remains to be seen how successfully Gen. Eisenhower can discount the same liability between his return to the United States and the Republican National Convention the first week in July.

Easy Payments

Suspension of credit controls by the Federal Reserve Board will interest you if:

You are a businessman relying on easy-payment plans to keep your inventory moving;

A potential customer relying on easy payments to make your prospective purchases;

A normally curious American citizen keeping track of the ebb and flow of the economic tides.

It finally has been made clear by the movement of these tides that the United States is not going to be engulfed in inflation, unless a major war creates panic-buying.

It has been made clear that the progressive boosting of wage rates of strongly organized producing groups is not an automatic guarantee of inflation. There is a strong possibility of deflation with hourly wage rates boosted to an all-time high.

So finally it has been made clear that consumers, as always, hold the ultimate power of economic decision. When they run out of the wherewithal and the will to purchase goods, something must be done; something will be done.

Making easy payments easier is a move in that direction. Chances are it is only the beginning of a series of moves calculated to stimulate a market for goods no longer being distributed in a seller's market.

Not Every Dog Has His Day

A seasonal roundup of dog-bite cases suggests a seasonal rationalization of this touchy situation.

Things being as they are, it is the dog that gets blamed when a human being is bitten, especially if the victim is a juvenile.

But there is a dog's side to the biting situation, too—though dogs have no voice to describe it.

The great majority of biting cases grow out of conflict between human behavior and the canine instinct to bite when cornered, angered or frightened.

Since dogs are part of the animal kingdom and are on earth to stay, despite the fervent wishes of those who would like to get rid of them it behooves human being to know enough about the normal behavior of dogs to live with them safely.

Tied dogs should not be molested. Eating dogs should be given a wide berth. No dog should be touched unless it first has shown some sign of friendship. In short, few dogs will bite without what they believe to be provocation. Get rid of the provocation and most dog-bite cases can be eliminated from the spring and summer news.

If you take two or three lumps with your tee, you're a dub golfer.

A pastor says that married couples start life in a tight fix these days. Modern apartments are pretty small, at that.

A writer says that carving is a lost art. It may return when the price of meat takes a real drop.

Taft-Hartley Law

By PETER EDSON

Truman Invoked It in Nine Labor Disputes

Recent pressure on President Truman to use the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Relations Act to settle the steel dispute makes timely a review of other labor disputes handled under this law.

It went into effect in August, 1947. White House records indicate that President Truman has invoked this law nine times. This has been to appoint boards of inquiry to report on disputes during 80-day cooling-off periods.

National Labor Relations Board records show that it has been called on in only five of those cases to conduct employee elections on acceptance or rejection of an employer's last offer.

An interesting sidelight here is that in nearly every one of these elections, the employees overwhelmingly rejected the employers' best offers, and settlement was made on a different basis.

The first case in which President Truman invoked the Taft-Hartley law involved the American Federation of Labor's Oak Ridge, Tenn., Council of Atomic Energy Commission employees working under the Union Carbide and Chemical Co. contract in March 1948.

In this election, only 26 employees voted to accept the employer's last offer of a 10-cent-an-hour increase and 771 voted to reject it.

A strike was prevented by injunction from March 19, 1948, to June 11. But four days after the injunction was lifted, the union settled for a 15-cent-an-hour increase.

IN THE SECOND big Taft-Hartley case, involving packing house workers, a presidential board was appointed to investigate, but no injunction was asked for and no NLRB election was held.

AFL unions settled early for a nine-cent-an-hour increase, splitting the union ranks. CIO Packinghouse Workers demanded 29 cents an hour and struck Armour, Swift and Cudahy plants from March 17 to May 21, 1948. Wilson was struck till June 5. All were settled at a nine-cent-an-hour increase, the employers' first offer.

John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers have tangled with the Taft-Hartley law three times. The first case in March, 1948, was over pensions. There was a presidential board of inquiry and an injunction against a strike.

In the second case, in June, 1948, a board of inquiry was named but no injunction was sought. There was no strike and the case was settled before the old contract expired for a $1-a-day raise.

When this contract expired June 30, 1949, there was an eight months strike in the coal industry. Matters were allowed to drag along till Feb. 6, 1950, when a presidential board was named.

An injunction to stop the strike was granted a week later. But when the miners did not return to work the government moved to have the union cited for contempt. This the court refused to do, which was a victory for Lewis.

The coal operators filed suit for $15 million damages under the Taft-Hartley law provisions. But in the settlement of March 5, 1950, granting the miners a 70-cent-a-day raise plus a 30-cent-a-ton welfare payment, suit was dropped.

A TAFT-HARTLEY board was named when the CIO Telephone workers demanded a 30-cent-an-hour raise in May, 1948. But there was no injunction and no strike. The case was settled June 4 with no increase. Later that year A.T.&T. granted an 8-to-12-cent increase.

Maritime union strikes of 1948 involved both longshoremen and seamen's unions on all waterfronts, both AFL and CIO. In a long summer of involved disputes, there were two presidential boards investigating and reporting. There was a series of injunctions.

The Taft-Hartley machinery was allowed to grind to its ultimate objectives of employee elections to accept or reject the employers' last offer. West coast longshoremen, cooks, firemen and other unions simply boycotted the elections. On the Gulf and East coasts, the unions rejected the offer overwhelmingly in local votes.

Then, after the Taft-Hartley had run its course, the various maritime unions settled for wage increases of $5 to $35 a month with a reduction of overtime-on-overtime demands.

Since the Korean War began, the Taft-Hartley law has been invoked by President Truman only once. This was in the nonferrous metals industry strikes during the fall of 1951.

There was a board of inquiry and in injunction from Sept. 5 to Nov. 25. The key Kennecott Copper case was settled before the injunction took effect, others while it was in effect and still others after it ended.

Wage Stabilization Board had to be called into this trouble to give final approval to a 15-cent-an-hour increase last December.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Victims Can Recover From Stroke

Several readers have asked for an article about a "stroke" and what happens to the body during and after such an attack.

The word, "stroke," is not a medical term, but refers to a condition in which there is bleeding into some part of the brain, or a clot in one of the blood vessels of the brain. In most cases, however, the underlying causes are much alike, namely, hardening of the blood vessels supplying this vital part.

What happens at the time of the stroke depends partly on whether it is caused by bleeding or by a clot, and more importantly, on what part of the brain is affected and how large an area is injured.

It is such things as this which determine whether a person suffering a stroke will develop paralysis, how much paralysis there will be, and whether the nerve symptoms will be only temporary or last for quite a long time. Incidentally, it should be said that most strokes are painless, though headache is not unusual.

Many people survive a stroke and return to fairly good health, and some can even suffer several strokes without being too badly knocked out.

Indeed the outlook for many victims of strokes is by no means gloomy, as is so often believed.

At the time when a stroke occurs, there is not much that anyone can do to halt the process or lessen the results. As a matter of fact, the damage is usually done by the time the doctor can arrive.

However, this does not mean that a person who has suffered a stroke of apoplexy should not receive treatment promptly and soon.

Much recovery of function is usually possible. In achieving the greatest amount of improvement, the desire of the patient—the will to get well—is considered of great importance. The nursing care which the patient receives is also of great value.

So far as medical treatment is concerned, this includes whatever measures the physician thinks will help the patient to recover function. Early exercise of the muscles and electric stimulation of the muscles are among these measures.

One Man's Opinion
BY WALTER KIERNAN

I read three of the candidates' remarks on Mother's Day and you can discount the possibility that motherhood will be an issue at Chicago.

They were all for it in varying degrees and a fourth candidate was indicated by his spokesmen to be ready to come out for it at the proper time.

Anyway, mother and grandmother can now settle back for another 364 days of non-recognition of their importance to us.

Personally I feel that we could afford to lavish affection on all mothers and grandmothers every day and if you will just send me Grandma Dietrich's address I will start immediately.

Some don't think Marlene is the ideal "grandmother type" but there have been no complaints from the boy babies.

And if you give it a minute's thought you will have to admit that probably nobody ever whistled at Whistler's mother let alone his grandmother.

Power At The Conventions

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Thomas James Norton, an important scholar in the field of government, in his book, "Undermining The Constitution," says:

"The constitutional government of the United States is scientific. Science is defined as classified knowledge, or the conclusions which the classification compels. The causes of all the breakdowns of governments in history were gone over in the Constitutional Convention and it was concluded that law making, law enforcing, and law interpreting must be definitely in different hands."

"All officials, state and national, were put under oath to support the Constitution and observe the boundaries to power specified in it. As far as could be, men with power were chained."

The problem that the founding fathers faced was the abuse of power. George III and his ministers, Lord North, had abused power. Because of that, they lost the richest jewel in the British crown, the American colonies that subsequently became the United States.

IT IS NO SECRET that Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated through the influence of William Randolph Hearst. Henry L. Stoddard, in "It Costs to Be President," recited the following:

"... Paul Block, the well-known publisher, and I sat in his room for a good-night exchange of opinion. He then said that he had been talking over the telephone with 'W. R.' and that a deal had been arranged by which the 69 Texas and California delegates, after complimenting Garner on two or three ballots, would swing to Roosevelt. He added that Garner would go on the ticket as Vice President and McAdoo was to have no opposition in California for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator."

THESE WHO WROTE our Constitution realized that the day might come when the United States itself would find power abused by officials, chosen by the electorate. They sought to avert such a condition, but Jefferson once wrote of the Constitution: "It would still have one fault in my eye, that of perpetual re-eligibility of the President."

The American people have corrected this fault by the Twenty-Second Amendment to the Constitution, which limits the President to two terms. This amendment became necessary because Franklin D. Roosevelt had violated the unwritten tradition established by George Washington of a two-term limitation.

THIS MORNING an acutely sick unit of rural-life machinery was carted off to the spare-parts hospital for rehabilitation. Its breakdown produced an emotional climax.

At the exploding point in the climax, the owner—angry, frustrated and bleeding at the knuckles—had jumped up and down in infantile helplessness and croaked hoarsely to anyone who might be listening, "Ge t meahro se!"

On the same day, another piece of machinery, with no apparent reason, had stubbornly refused to perform until a fledgling has tinkered it ineptly and haphazardly—whereupon it popped off and ran like a charm, but only for the fledgling.

Every summer in RFD the same thing happens, not just to this victim, because his ignorance of machinery is so abysmal it could account for anything, but to all victims of a deep and far-reaching fallacy of the machine age.

This is the fallacy that labor can be saved by systematic application to outdoor chores of the principle that energy produced artificially is a substitute for the natural energy of human beings and draft animals.

The truth is that such energy is a supplement, never a substitute. Harnessing it and keeping it effective becomes in itself an expenditure of energy. The mechanized farmer of the 20th century is able to perform his miracles of production only by the grace of a greater miracle of mechanical ingenuity.

If by chance he lacks this essential qualification, he would be better off with a yoke of oxen and the primitive "attachments" with which farmers toiled in that remote era before agriculture was mech-

However, the two-term limitation can have an effect contrary to that desired, namely, that the President, not seeking public approval, may, if he is not restrained by morals, act irresponsibly. This spectacle, we are, in a measure, now witnessing in the President's claim to unlimited power, which has had to go to the Supreme Court for decision.

The method by which the President is chosen is of very great importance, as in it is involved what Alexander Hamilton called cabal, intrigue, corruption. In 1932, the principal Democratic contestants for the Presidency were: Alfred E. Smith, Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. The most popular candidates was Al Smith; the most skillful manager was James A. Farley.

IN FACT, anyone who attends the convention of either party, which this year will be on television, knows that debate, discussion, due consideration is impossible. Starting slowly and dully, the convention moves, in a crescendo, to the roar of a circus.

The delegates shout and shriek and march about in mass pandemonium. They even hire actors to help them in their antics and I presume, now that television has been added, there will be the usual models in differing degrees of undress. In this raucous atmosphere, few men can deliberate. So, the more serious minded gather in hotel rooms to transact their business and the telephone becomes a more important instrument of the people's will than the chosen delegate.

"The news was in confidence," however, for Hearst, of course, had no power to release delegates pledged to any candidate. That was for Garner and McAdoo to do. Hearst, however, undertook to talk with both of them and with Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who controlled the Illinois delegation. He persuaded all three that after a few ballots they should turn to Roosevelt, and they did."

This, in effect, nullified the convention. It was similar to the nomination of Warren G. Harding through the influence of Colonel George Harvey in the smoke-filled hotel room. In the 1940 convention, Thomas Lamont and the National Association of Manufacturers put over a former member of Tammany Hall, Wendell Willkie, on the Republican Party.

THEY HAVE a lot more gadgets to help them do their housework," she said. "But somehow I don't believe they have the feeling of security I had when I married."

As Mom and Dad started housekeeping on $15 a week, this theory is hard for me to accept. But she says everybody worked harder and felt more secure a generation ago than they do today. And probably she is right.

Mom is the philosopher in the family. She thinks people must lead their own lives, and that it doesn't do any good to try to lead their lives for them. She gives her advice in an oblique way. I still carry in my wallet a faded newspaper clipping that Mom once mailed to me. She had underlined in ink this sentence: "Child, child, don't you know there'll be another day?"

Mother's Day

By HAL BOYLE

Not A Day Of Rest For Mom

KANSAS CITY

Many an American mother today is resting after the ordeal of being a mother on Mother's Day.

That is the situation in our family.

For years we have tried to mother Mom on Mother's Day. But Mom is hard to mother. She is so used to pampering her five children and two grandchildren that it is hard for her to relax and let them pamper her.

Somewhat she has got the whole idea of Mother's Day confused. To her it is a kind of test of her mettle as a parent.

Year after year the kids try to figure out a way to do something special to please her. But it always ends up with Mama doing something for us.

"Now this year we are going to take you out to dinner and celebrate," we tell her. "You never get out of that kitchen."

"Well, that'll be real nice," says Mama. And then she begins her hedge. She points out how much bother it is to go out. She is sure the restaurants will be too crowded on Mother's Day anyway.

"I'll tell you what," she says. "I'll fry up a couple of chickens, and let's see—I guess we'll have strawberry shortcake for dessert."

AND SHE ALWAYS has her way. Come Mother's Day and she slaves harder than ever over that old hot stove. The kids sit in the dining room and stuff themselves like harvest hands while Mom brings in platter after platter of fried chicken. The only help she gets—would accept—is a little assistance later in drying the dishes.

Everybody then sits around gabbing and criticizing the government. In the evening the whole family raids the icebox together, and Mom says: "Now, isn't this better than going out?"

SHE IS ALL worn out from overworking on Mother's Day. But she has celebrated it in the way she likes best. She has had the family together in the home, and done something for them.

Most mothers are happy to receive gifts of candy and flowers from their children. Not our Mom. She gets angry. She thinks that is wasteful. The only thing we can give her is some money, and all she does with the money is to stow it away in an old sock or something to leave to her grandchildren.

Mom has spent her life doing things for her children, and she has never got around to the thought that maybe the children ought to start mothering her.

This year she will be 64 years old, and time and trouble have made her serene. She has no bitterness toward life. She feels sorry for young wives today.

THEY HAVE a lot more gadgets to help them do their housework," she said. "But somehow I don't believe they have the feeling of security I had when I married."

As Mom and Dad started housekeeping on $15 a week, this theory is hard for me to accept. But she says everybody worked harder and felt more secure a generation ago than they do today. And probably she is right.

550 Mothers And Daughters Attend Three Church Dinners

Nearly 550 mothers and daughters of Baptist, Emmanuel Lutheran and Presbyterian Churches paid fitting tribute in words and music to mothers in separate dinner parties Friday evening.

First Baptist

Dinner for 150 mothers and daughters was served in the Baptist dining room by the Locust Grove Baptist Church. Mrs. George Peterson and Mrs. Alfred Crawford, co-chairmen, made the arrangements for the enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Peterson was mistress of ceremonies. Mal baskets, filled with candy, marked the places of the guests at the tables attractively decorated with lilacs and barberry arranged in milk glasses. Piano accompanist for the program and for group singing was Mrs. Robert Hammell. Ralph Firestone entertained with a saxophone solo and Medith Morningstar and Ann Livingston played a piano duet.

Combining in vocal duet were Treva Bush and Miss Livingston. Miss Irene Weeks, dramatic instructor at Salem High School, presented a group of Thespian in the entertaining comedy, "Campaign for Two."

Mrs. Crawford made the presentation of gifts to the following: Mrs. Charles Erath, as the mother with the most children present and Mrs. Homer Brian, as the mother with the youngest child. In conclusion Mrs. Crawford offered a special dedicatory prayer for mothers.

Emmanuel Lutheran

Mrs. John Bauman welcomed more than 210 mothers and daughters of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church to the banquet prepared by members of the Methodist Women's Society in the Methodist Church. Rev. Bauman, church pastor, gave the invocation.

Toast mistress was Mrs. George Woerther. Mrs. John Theiss led in group singing and Mrs. William Seeman was accompanist.

Little Cathy Weber gave the toast to mothers and her mother, Mrs. Daniel Weber, responded with the tribute to daughters. "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" was the selection sung by Miss Louise Bauman.

"Beautifully Done" was descriptive of the review of "Wedding at Canaan," given by Mrs. G. D. Keister. The story is woven around Elizabeth's betrothal to Phillip, whose marriage was delayed for 11 years because of illness and death in the family.

Epergnes filled with spring flowers, and programs in pastel colors added to the attractive table appointments. Plants were presented the eldest mother, Mrs. C. B. Williams of New Waterford, mother of Mrs. Agnes Yarian and the youngest mother, Mrs. Martin Roth, Jr.

Five mothers, each accompanied by three of their daughters were present. Those honored with cut flowers were Mrs. Walter Linder, Mrs. Gilbert Timm, Mrs. Ronald Fleisher, Mrs. William Bohendorfer, Jr., and Mrs. John Theiss. Mrs. Bauman made the presentations.

Humorous movies were shown for the entertainment of the youngsters in the audience. All joined in singing the doxology in closing.

ALESSI INITIATED

Dominick Alfred Alessi, senior in the school of Liberal Arts at Washington University, St. Louis, was recently initiated into Cardinal Keys, branch of the Newman Club, national Catholic students' organization.

A former student at Kent State University, Alessi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alessi of Salem.

Presbyterian

Men of the Presbyterian Men's Council arranged for the preparation of the dinner which members of the group served to 180 mothers and daughters in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. Alfred Fitch and Mrs. H. D. Harris and members of the May committee were in charge of the dinner arrangements and decorating. Lilacs, tulips and bleeding hearts combined in the flower appointments on the long tables and each place was marked with yellow lily favors, filled with candy. Yellow tapers were lighted between the arrangements.

Besides being program chairman, Mrs. Harry Snyder presided as toastmistress. Mrs. J. C. Pottori, president of the Women's Association, welcomed the guests.

A mother, daughter and granddaughter tribute was given by Mrs. Clarence Schmid, Mrs. Bruce Hack and five-year-old Kathy Hack. The fourth generation present in the Schmid-Hack families included Mrs. John F. Schmid, mother-in-law of Mrs. Clarence Schmid, whose own mother also is living.

Kathy concluded the honor tribute with her own personal prayer. Mrs. William Ovington was the oldest mother present with her daughter. Her daughter is Mrs. Robert Dunn. Mrs. Ernest Breit was the mother with the youngest daughter at the dinner. Her daughter, Sylvia Frances, is eight and a half months old. They were presented a tribute as was Kathy Hack.

Mrs. W. D. King arranged the delightful musical program presented by Miss Dorothy Pozniko, pianist, Miss Kay Ferrall, flutist, and Miss Nancy Bailey, violinist. Miss Bailey entertained with two violin solos, "Leonard's Solos" and "Fiddle-Fiddle."

In trio, piano, flute and violin combined in the playing of "Barcarolle," "The Jewel Song" and "Swallow, Happy Swallow." For her piano solos, Miss Pozniko played "Fugue" and "Rondo Capriccioso."

"Put your hands to work and hearts to God," a slogan of the religious sect of Shakers, is descriptive of their activities extending over a 178-year period, according to guest speaker, Miss Iona Geckler of North Canton, who entertained with the telling of "The Shaker Adventure."

Shaker Heights, near Cleveland, is named for the sect and Lee Road in the city takes its name from the founder of the faith, Ann Lee. Miss Geckler, in authentic Shaker costume, also showed handicraft of the people.

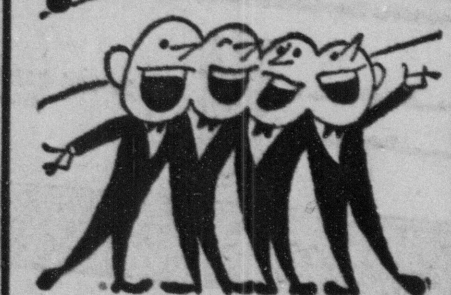

Outstanding phases of their belief is confession of sin; all goods are community property; withdrawal from the world and equality of the sexes. The speaker said they believed in marriage but not in the propagation of the sexes because they believed such a sinful world should end.

From a peak membership of 6,000 in about 1850 the Shaker sect has dwindled to 47 women and two men, all vastly wealthy. To the Shakers goes the credit for packaging seeds and the invention of many useful items.

Indians Rally To Win, 1-0; Take Nightcap From Browns, 3-1

Ninth Inning Run Gives Lemon Two-Hit Victory; Garcia Yields Eight Bingles As Tribe Wins 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joking, easy-going Bob Lemon won't crack under the strain, but his Cleveland Indian team mates are making his victories come the hard way this season.

When Lemon blanked the St. Louis Browns 1-0 on a two-hitter in the opener of yesterday's doubleheader, it was the fifth game in which the Tribe has scored no more than one run for him.

Bob didn't get the run until the last of the ninth with two out, and he started the winning rally himself by beating out a roller to second base.

THE VICTORY was important too, for it was the first this year over the Browns who had beaten Cleveland three straight. The Indians took the nightcap 3-1 to boost their hold on first place to two full games over Washington and Boston.

To get back to Lemon and his hardships, the 31-year-old right-hander is shooting for the 20-game winner class which he missed last year for the first time in four seasons. Sunday's triumph was his third against two losses and his second 1-0 shutout. He hurled a 1-0 three-hitter at Chicago in the season opener.

Not counting four innings of fine relief work in which he saved two victories for Bob Feller, Lemon has pitched six games. In those six starts he hurled 51 innings, and the Indians gave him only seven runs.

LEMON AND NED GARVER of Ney, O., put on a red-hot pitching duel for 27,726 customers at the stadium, yesterday. Each had a one-hit shutout going into the tense final inning. Clint Courtney singled off Lemon in the fifth, and Harry Simpson singled off Garver in the sixth.

Gordon Goldsberry beat out a hit to shortstop and was stranded in the St. Louis half of the ninth. Lemon led off the Cleveland half with his infield hit, but was forced at second on Simpson's sacrifice attempt. Then Bob Avila bloomed a single which he explained afterwards:

"The hit and run is on. He throws a pitchout. So I throw the bat."

DEVIL ON WHEELS—Joe Marinaro braces himself for an inevitable trip to hard masonite track skating against the New York Chiefs in Manhattan. The Jersey Jolters star will be among the top skaters on hand for the Roller Derby World Series, May 28, at Chicago Coliseum.

With Simpson on third, Al Rosen was walked purposely. Larry Doby batted for Ray Boone and fanned. Enter Outfielder Dale Mitchell, the hero. He grounded a single past Garver, and while it rolled into center field, Simpson ran home.

"If I had been alert enough as I followed through on the pitch, I would have knocked the ball down," Garver said afterward. "That's what make Lemon such a great fielder. He moves into position for the ball just as he completes his delivery."

THE NIGHTCAP HAD none of the first game's suspense. Mike Garcia chalked up his fourth victory by scattering eight hits, and the Tribe pecked away at three Brownie hurlers for only five.

St. Louis got 14 men to first base, but left 12 stranded. Manager Rogers Hornsby used six pinchhitters, and one base on balls was all that came of it. Three other pinchhitters fanned, one hit into a double-play and one flied out.

Goldsberry and Courtney singled in the fourth, and two infield grounders brought Goldsberry around.

Southpaw Bob Cain, who tossed a one-hitter against Cleveland in St. Louis last month, yielded an Indian run in the second and another in the third. That was enough to make him the loser.

BOONE SCORED the first one after singling and advancing on Mitchell's sacrifice. Bob Kennedy's single brought him home. Avila walked, stole second and scored on Rosen's single in the third. After Earl Harritt replaced Cain in the fourth, Mitchell doubled off him and scored on Birdie Tebbetts' single.

Former Indian Gene Bearden held Cleveland hitless the last three innings.

Cleveland Man Makes Pair Of Holes-In-One

CLEVELAND (AP)—Russell Spahr never had seen a hole-in-one before yesterday, much less made one. Then he shot two aces in one round.

Spahr, the golf champion at Manakiki Country Club, shot his first ace on the seventh hole, 170 yards, and repeated the feat on the 15 hole with a 210-yarder. Both blasts were made into the wind.

The shot on No. 7 was made with a four iron, and the one on No. 15, over a pond, with a number four wood.

Spahr, district manager for the U. S. Gypsum Co., had 37-39-76 for the round, the two singles compensating for seven fives and two sixes. After the second ace, Spahr finished with three bogey fives.

Spahr, who lives in nearby Chargin Falls, has been playing golf for about 14 years. He won the Manakiki Club title last season. He learned golf in his home town of Xenia and came here three years ago.

Lemon, Reynolds Twirl Two-Hit, 1-0 Victories; Detroit Snaps Losing Streak; Pirates Split Two

(By The Associated Press)

What happened to the lively ball? Like the dodo bird, it appears to have become extinct.

Remember when those pitchers were walling about too much jack-rabbit in the ball? That was only two years ago. Now the hitters are doing the moaning and groaning. And with good reason.

Just look at these figures of futility on the part of the batters:

The Major League season is less than a month old and already 28 shutouts have been pitched. American League hurlers, who have turned in 17 whitewashing jobs, have spun seven 1-0 games to equal their full-season total of 1951.

Bob Lemon of Cleveland and Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees pitched brilliant 1-0, two-hit victories yesterday. That boosted the total of low-hit games this year to 35. Recently, Bob Feller of Cleveland, Bob Cain of the St. Louis Browns and Art Houtteman of Detroit hurled one-hitters.

ONLY FOUR home runs were hit yesterday. That raised the two leagues' total to 217, exactly 70 fewer than the 287 hit last year at a corresponding date.

Lemon's two-hit victory was followed by Mike Garcia's eight-hit, 3-1 triumph. It enabled the Indians to sweep, a doubleheader from the Browns and increase their American League lead to two games over the runner-up Washington Senators.

Lemon was extended to the limit as Ned Garver, Brownie ace, yielded only four hits himself. Three of them came in the last half of the ninth to furnish the only run. Dale Mitchell's two-out single with the bases loaded broke up the mound duel.

THE INDIANS collected only five hits off loser Cain and two relievers in the second game but made them all count for Garcia's fourth victory.

Reynolds, who hurled a no-hitter against the Red Sox last September, nearly duplicated the stunt. The only hits the Red Sox got yesterday were first-inning singles by Dom DiMaggio and Vern Stephens. Hank Bauer singled off loser Mel Parnell with one out in the fifth, advanced to second on a grounder and scored on a line single by Irv Noren.

The Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, to win in 11 innings of the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain washed out the second tilt after two scoreless innings.

With the bases loaded and two out in the 11th, Eddie Yost raised a pop foul. Elmer Valo and Skeets Kell let the ball drop in foul territory behind first, and Yost singled on the next pitch to drive in two runs.

The Detroit Tigers snapped their seven-game losing streak, nipping Chicago, 2-1, after the White Sox had won the first game of a scheduled doubleheader, 6-5. Rookie George Lerchen's eighth-inning single drove Johnny Lipon home from second with the winning Tiger run in the eighth.

Minnie Minoso's two-run homer and strong relief pitching by Saul Rogovin, another ex-Tiger, won the opener for Chicago.

THE DODGERS whittled New York's National League lead to one game, edging Philadelphia, 4-5, in 10 innings.

An error set up Brooklyn's winning run. Pee-wee Reese got a life on Granny Hammer's bobbie, stole second and scored on a two-out single by Roy Campanella.

Joe Adcock walloped two homers and a single to lead the Cincinnati Reds to an 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Chicago split a twin bill with Pittsburgh. The Pirates, who had lost 20 of 24 starts, rallied to whip the Bruins, 11-2, after losing the opener, 8-2.

The scheduled doubleheader between the Giants and Braves in Boston was postponed because of rain.

Twenty years ago—Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics led the American League in batting with .436 and home runs with 7 after 21 games.

Painted Daisies Are An Old Garden Favorite

For more years than the Old Gardener cares to admit, he has been most partial to the Painted Daisies.

This affection is due in part to their association with his mother's garden and also because Painted Daisies are extremely worthwhile. Their culture is simple and all they ask is full sun and a fairly deep, light, moist soil.

Most nurserymen list the Painted Daisy botanically as pyrethrum. This is incorrect since they are in the chrysanthemum family, and botanists list it as chrysanthemum coccineum.

Listing them pyrethrum or chrysanthemum matters little. They are excellent perennials for beds or borders, blooming from late spring to mid-summer, and, if regularly cut, even until autumn.

Perhaps your mother called them Marguerites, or Paris Daisies. Again, setting us straight, botanically speaking, chrysanthemum frutescens is the correct name for the Marguerites, Incidentally, the insecticide called pyrethrum is made from the dried flowers of this plant as well as from three other species of chrysanthemums.

PAINTED DAISIES come in all colors, except blue and yellow, and produce showy long-stemmed flowers which are of inestimable value for cutting. They grow in neat, compact tufts, and have elegant finely cut foliage, which adds to the attractiveness of the plant.

The best time to plant is in spring, although early autumn planting is successful if the location is well drained and the plants are mulched with straw, not leaves, for the winter.

Since they resent crowding, grow them in groups of three or five, spaced a foot or more apart. There have been perhaps 700 named horticultural forms—but only a few have reached the home gardener.

Gardenside Nurseries, Shelburne, Vt., offer the following named varieties for the gardener who appreciates the best:

HELEN—Evenly doubled soft rose flowers of perfect form. A profuse bloomer that flowers again if cut back.

HENRIETTA—Very light pink with a profusely branching habit.

PAINTED DAISIES, long-time spring gardening favorites, should be planted a foot or more apart as indicated in this illustration.

Slightly doubled flowers that make a fine display.

HUNTINGTON'S SCARLET—The best single, deep scarlet.

MRS. C. E. BECKSMITH—The best double white form. The perfectly doubled flowers.

MRS. D. C. BLISS—The most brilliant colored variety. The petals of the single flowers are a bright orange.

RED PIGMY—Good foliage and flowers. Small, single, dark red blooms about foot-high plants. A good edging kind.

ROSARY—A sturdy, prolific and easily grown double flowering variety. A brilliant deep rose, pink with lighter shading.

ROSE GLORY—Deep rose, much like Rose Mist. Color and form are excellent, and culture easy. Fine for cutting.

ROSE MIST—The ray petals are deep rose with the center slightly lighter. Flower is very double.

SILVERTIPS—A very double, deep pink bloom. Each petal twists to show white on the reverse side.

VICTORIA—A fine old English variety, deep rose on the edge of red. It flowers heavily, and is fine for cutting.

Home Owners Advised To Fix House Roof

Have you looked at your roof lately? A checkup on that important area deserves a top spot on your home maintenance schedule for spring, according to upkeep specialists. A sound roof is as essential as a firm foundation to a sound, livable home.

If shingles have been blown away or if they are badly warped, it is likely that the condition has made itself evident by water leaking through to the inside. It will pay, however, to catch any flaws before deterioration has progressed to the leakage stage.

The most satisfactory plan is to have an inspection made by a roofing expert. He can detect trouble spots which might elude a non-professional. He also can replace missing and damaged shingles, fix worn fastenings and make any other needed repairs.

SOME ROOFING materials have a limited life and require complete replacement several times during the ordinary life of a house. Others are resistant to wear and weather. They give permanent service and seldom require any maintenance.

In selecting a replacement material, maintenance experts advise, it is wise to give consideration to a permanent type of shingles. Besides being less expensive on a per-year-of-service basis, they eliminate most ordinary maintenance expenses and do away with the bother of periodic replacements.

The type of permanent roofing most widely used today in home building is asbestos-cement shingles. Introduced in this country almost fifty years ago, there is no record of any asbestos-cement shingle ever having worn out. They are made by combining fibers of the mineral asbestos with portland cement and are completely incombustible. For that reason, they number fire-safety as well as durability among their advantages.

Another desirable quality is attractive appearance. They are made in many solid colors, such as gray, blue-black, red, green and white, and in blends and mottled hues. Their thickness is sufficient to produce pleasing shadow lines.

ASBESTOS CEMENT shingles can be obtained in a number of types. The hexagonal style, for example, gives a honeycomb effect. Dutch lap shingles form a rectangular pattern. American method asbestos shingles produce a pattern similar to that of conventional wood shingles.

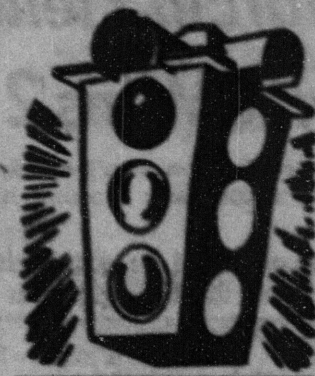

One of the newest and most popular of these asbestos materials is the "strip," or multiple-unit American method shingle. Each shingle covers an area equivalent to that of from two to five single shingles. When in place, they give the appearance of American method shingles applied individually. They are economical in cost and application. All types have common general characteristics, including incombustibility, resistance to wear and weather and permanence.

When the alligator roars, it emits a musky scent that can be detected miles away.

An experimental trackless trolley line, 800 feet in length, was opened in Scranton, Pa., in 1903.

Redecorating? Give Thought To Ceiling Colors

It seems that we rarely give much thought to the ceilings in our homes. We concentrate on the walls, reasoning that they are important because they're seen no matter which way we turn. Being the largest uninterrupted surfaces in the rooms, in most cases, ceilings bear some careful attention.

Indirect lighting at night illuminates them fully, revealing the slightest imperfections. In daytime ceilings serve more than one essential function. In dark rooms they are em-played as light reflectors to make the most of all natural light that enters. In overbright rooms that sometimes glare in the sunlight, ceilings can serve as light absorbers.

IF YOU HAVE a too-dark room, you'll do well to consider the amount of light reflected by color before deciding on your ceiling's hue.

White reflects at least 80 per cent of the light falling upon it. Light ivory has a 70 per cent rating; apricot beige, about 65. Lemon yellow is slightly farther down the scale, white ivory reflects about 60 per cent and light buff, 55.

Light green and pale blue have ratings about 40 per cent and deep rose, with 15 per cent, is next to dark green, which has less than 10 per cent reflecting power.

To be sure light is reflected evenly, it is wise to use flat paint on ceilings of all rooms except the bathroom and kitchen, where it's best to apply a gloss or semi-gloss surface.

CEILINGS can also serve you as sound absorbers. Sound rebounds from the hard surface of glass walls and picture windows and from some floors and floor coverings.

Many rooms don't offer enough sound-absorbing qualities in upholstered furniture, deep carpets and heavy draperies. Acoustic ceilings solve the problem, but must be carefully painted so the sound-trapping cells are not covered, thus impairing the acoustic properties.

Paint acoustic tile with either brush or spray gun, preferably the latter, if you have one. Pick the clogged cells open with a pin.

Use flat paint, thinned slightly, but talk to your paint dealer about it first. Some paints can't be thinned successfully.

Furniture-making was not considered a craft until the end of the 12th century.

Builds New Home From Ruins Of Old

TOPEKA, Kan.—When Mrs. Alice Lantis, a widow of less than a week, saw her home ruined by flood waters of the Kaw River, she refused to be daunted. Instead, she set about to build a new house with her own hands.

The flood came last spring. It buckled the floors, broke down the ceilings, tore off the plaster and pushed out the windows. Mrs. Lantis wrecked what remained and piled up the lumber. Then a new flood started to carry away the salvaged boards. Mrs. Lantis made a hurried tour of the neighborhood and found a landowner who would sell her a lot on higher ground. Then, with the aid of the Red Cross, she trucked the remaining lumber to the new site—just before the flood inundated the old location.

Working eight hours a day through the fall and winter, Mrs. Lantis dug a foundation, erected a framework, put on asbestos-cement siding and roofing shingles, laid flooring and installed windows. This spring she was ready to move into a spic-and-span new five-room house.

A Topeka paper, in relating the story, said that Mrs. Lantis, "when she is comfortable in her lovely little house, flanked by fruit blossoms as white as the asbestos shingles," will have an added satisfaction—that pleasure of knowing she did most of the work herself.

Northeastern Arizona has a natural bridge formed by a petrified tree.

U. S. USES MOST ASBESTOS

The United States is by far the largest consumer of asbestos in the world. Asbestos fibers are fabricated into hundreds of items, including textiles, brake linings and electrical insulations. The biggest user of asbestos fibers is the building materials industry, which combines them with portland cement to make siding and roofing shingles, flat building boards and corrugated sheets.

Construction Trends

Congress Expected To Confer On Government Home Building

President Truman has stepped right in the middle of the hottest housing fight in almost three years, demanding that Congress ignore industry appeals for an end to federal public housing projects.

The battle has been building up quietly during the past year but now has reached the point where Congress again will have to decide, in effect, whether the government should support home building for low-income families.

Government and industry officials predict the controversy will be compromised but not without a bitter floor fight in the halls of Congress.

In late 1949, Congress passed the so-called Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing law permitting federal loans to local authorities for public housing projects. The loans were to be repaid by tenants renting the apartments.

To Public Housing Administration officials, output under the law has been a cause for concern. The Korean war, shortages of materials, high costs and numerous local fights have been a constant factor in sharply curtailing the program.

At present, however, the construction outlook is improving and PHA wants to build more low-rent housing projects. This is violently opposed by the National Association of Home Builders and other real estate groups spearheading and unrelenting campaign to abolish PHA altogether.

ONE NAHB OFFICIAL declares: "We believe this is just plain socialism. If housing can be socialized so can any other industry. Moreover, the best method of providing homes for low-income families is through private enterprise. Public housing just provides jobs for bureaucrats."

On the other hand, public housing advocates argue that the program is needed because the building industry has demonstrated it is unable to provide decent homes for the nation's families earning less than $3,000 a year.

President Truman is supported in this contention by his top economic adviser, Leon Keyserling, Sens. Humphrey (D) Minn., Douglas (R) Illinois, Tobey (R) N. H., and other officials who have criticized the so-called "real estate lobby."

As the matter now stands, the house has appropriated enough funds for the 12 months starting next July to allow construction of 5,000 PHA dwellings. The President requested 75,000 units and NAHB opposed any building at all.

Both sides in the dispute are figuring Congress will recommend a compromise. PHA officials are expecting permission to build at least 50,000 units, the same number permitted in the current fiscal year.

Builders privately are hoping no more than 25,000 dwellings will be approved but the National Housing Conference, a public housing group, wants the goal of 135,000 PHA homes a year re-established.

MEANWHILE, the home building industry is preparing to open a "Save Our Cities" campaign designed to rid the nation of slums and encourage housing construction in otherwise run down metropolitan areas.

For some time, housing experts have been alarmed over the refusal of local groups to rehabilitate choice property sites in major cities which have been allowed to fall into complete disrepair.

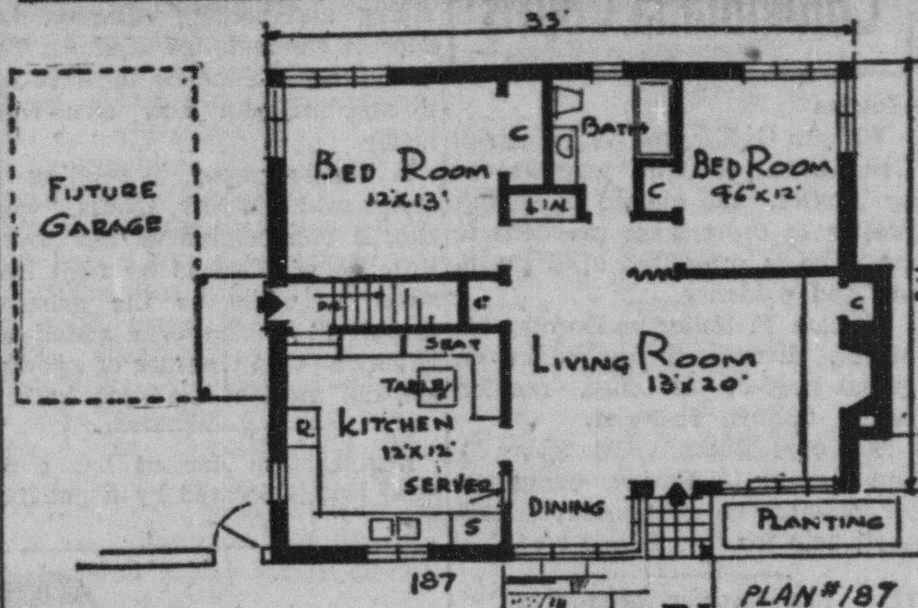

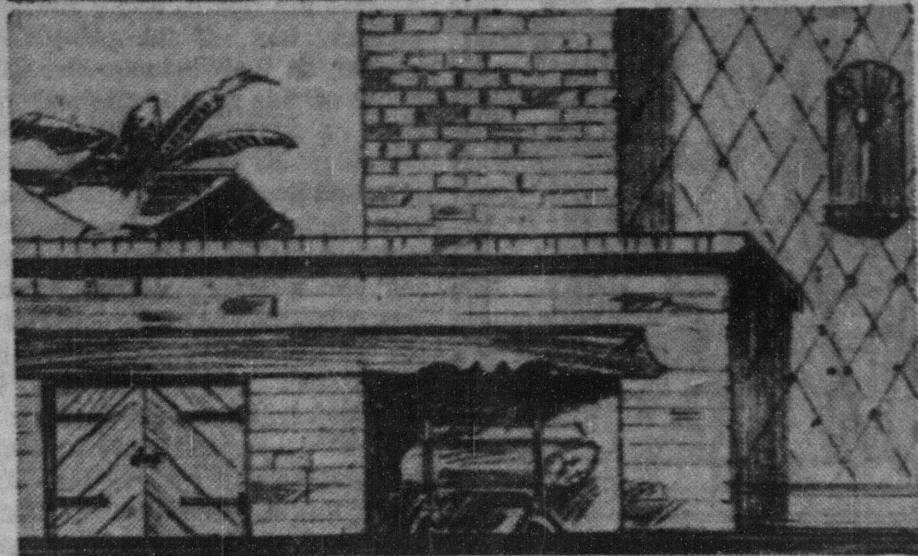

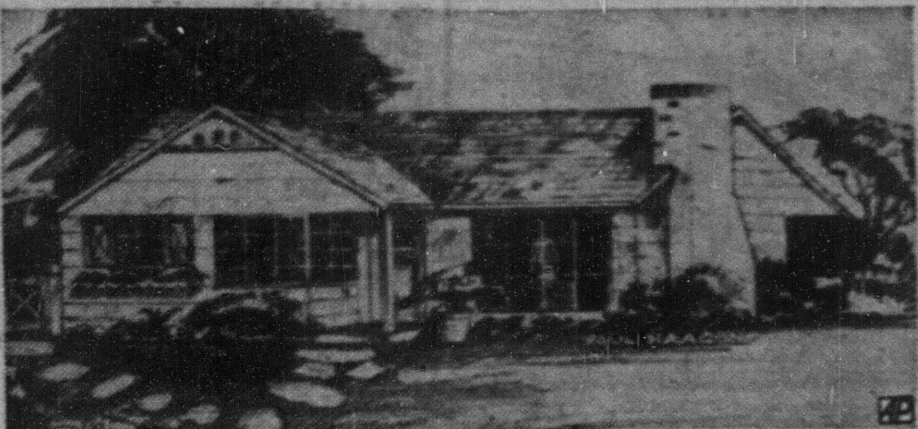

This has been largely responsible for the growing home building trend in suburban areas. Builders and buyers simply are not interested in homes located in or bordering on slum districts.

NAHB officials are planning to call a nation wide conference in August to do something about the problem. It will ask women's clubs, veterans groups and other business and social organizations to join the campaign.

The building association says tremendous progress on a cleanup program has been achieved in Pasadena, Calif., in the past two years and there is no reason why such work cannot be carried out on a national scale.

THE FEDERAL Reserve board is expected shortly to relax real estate credit controls as a follow-up on removal of the curbs on purchases of household appliances and home furnishings.

Board officials and industry spokesmen say immediate removal of home buying controls is not likely but there is a good chance

A SMALL CONSERVATIVE house with the fireplace end of the living room glorified for decorative possibilities. This is Plan 187 by Paul T. Haagen, 380 No. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill. the action will be taken sometime this summer.

It is understood the board is reluctant to act at the present time because home building is running at high rates. Production of household goods, however, has fallen off considerably, making it necessary to give the industry a "shot in the arm" through credit relief.

A rack that fits into a roasting pan is a good investment; it will hold the meat or poultry up out of the drippings and let hot air circulate around it.

Chamber Seeks New Members

Driver's Course To Start May 26

COLUMBIANA — Application blanks for renewals and new memberships will be mailed out early this week by officials of the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce in the annual membership drive. Prompt responses are expected, so that the period may not have to be prolonged by solicitations.

The project will begin with a buffet supper in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park, at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, when Charles G. Nichols, vice president and general manager of the G. M. McKelvey Co., Youngstown, will be the speaker. Mr. Nichols has recently addressed sessions of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and has just returned from speaking trips to New England and the west coast. His business activities have included experience as a chamber of commerce executive. President L. A. Way of the chamber will preside at the supper.

COLUMBIANA school authorities have already received inquiries and some enrollments for the driver training course for adults and others planned for the summer. A class will be limited to 20 persons, who will receive five hours of class room work and 10 hours of actual driving tests. Classes will meet daily five days a week, with some evening instruction. Members of the class will follow a schedule of periods for individual instruction. If there is enough interest, other classes will be formed to follow the conclusion of the first one. Members of the school faculty and other school authorities will receive enrollments or give information. The course will begin Monday, May 26, and continue 30 days.

Richard Beltz of the High School faculty, who, instructed such a class of students during the school year, will be the teacher. Mr. Beltz is a qualified driver training instructor.

Civil defense posters are to be distributed to Columbiana homes this evening by members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, Kiwanians taking the west and Rotarians the east side of town.

THE 100 PER Cent class of the Presbyterian Church will meet at
